Choose the courses that work for you

With a range of in-person, online, and on-demand offerings PD for me means you can level-up your industry knowledge in a way that suits you.

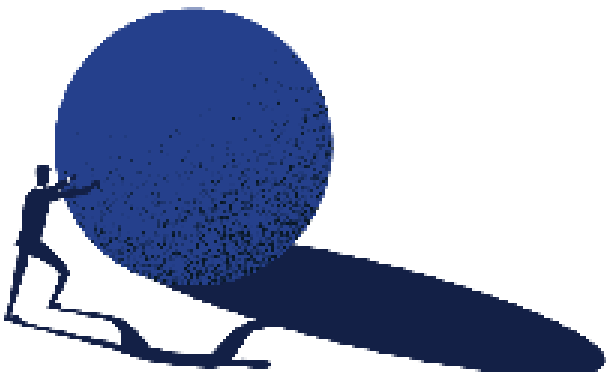

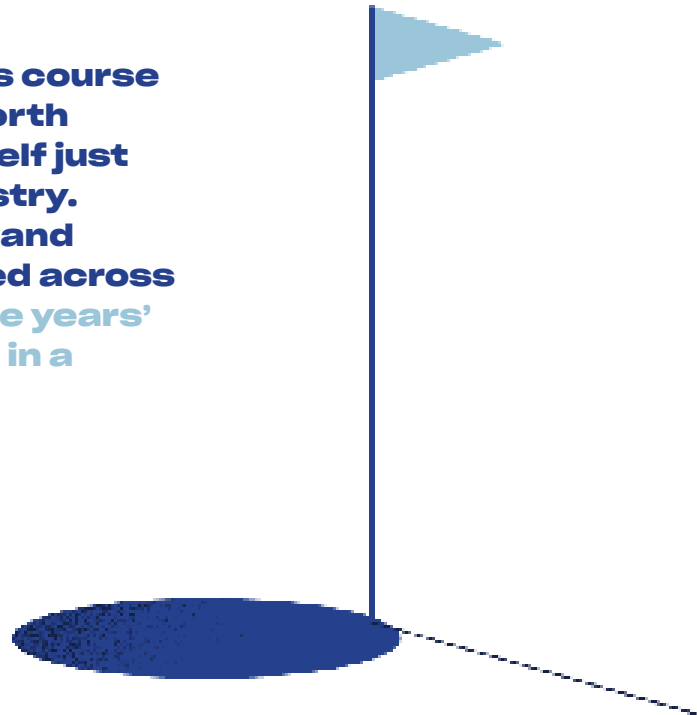

Each course is delivered by industry experts and is designed to expedite your knowledge of the property industry no matter where you are at in your career journey.

With 18 courses on offer from March to November, your 2023 professional development is sorted.

What course attendees have to say

“Once again thank you for putting this course together. It was very valuable and worth while information, especially for myself just starting out in the development industry. Very interesting how many concepts and thought processes can be transferred across different industries. This has given me years’ worth of experiences and knowledge in a couple of sessions.”

“Thank you for delivering a well run and extremely informative course. Through attending the course I have gained a wealth of expedited knowledge and understanding of the industry and it’s broad nature.”
